The logo features the word "humaniora" in a large, orange serif font. Above the letter "h", there is a stylized graphic element consisting of four light brown ovals arranged in a cross-like pattern, with two small blue squares at their intersection. Below the main title, the subtitle "Language, People, Art, and Communication Studies" is written in a smaller, orange sans-serif font. The entire logo is set against a white background with decorative orange outlines: a large circle behind the "h", a square below the subtitle, and a horizontal line extending from the left side of the square to a small flower-like graphic at the bottom-left corner.
